THE FAMILIAR SILOUETTE of an iron ore crrier against the Chicago & North Western's pocket-type dock in Escanaba disappeared into history today when the final boat of the 1968 season, the Wilfred Sykes, cleared the harbor. Shown here is the Leon Falk Jr. of the Hanna Mining Co. which loaded Wednesday. The vessel was the second to last carrier to load over the present dock. Next spring, a new conveyor-type dock will be in operation. See story, page 5. (Daily Press Photo)

Accidentally Uncovers $500,000 Plot

Officer Breaks Up Ransom Payoff

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A ransom payoff for kidnaped coed Barbara Jane Mackle was broken up here today, the FBI reported, when a policeman chased a suspicious car near Miami's bayside and recovered a suitcase stuffed with $500,000.

Also found in the car, abandoned by two persons near downtown Miami, was a skin-diving suit, apparently used in making pickup of the money from the waters of Biscayne Bay, the FBI confirmed.

A source close to the millionaire land developing family said in Atlanta earlier that Barbara Jane was alive and unharmed. He declined to elaborate.

The source confirmed the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Mackle, had returned to their plush home at Coral Gables, Fla.

Dogs Are Used

FBI agents, county and city police swarmed into the bayside area where Deputy P. S. Self found the money in the abandoned car. Helicopters and dogs were thrown into the search for the fugitives, one of whom carried a carbine rifle.

"My concern and the father's concern, is for the girl's safety," said Fred Fox, assistant special agent in charge of the Miami FBI office.

Fox said the fugitives abandoned a blue Volvo with Massachusetts license tags when Deputy Self noticed the car "where it shouldn't have been."

Fleeing the car, one fugitive carried the carbine. The other dropped the suitcase in his flight.

Packed into the suitcase were used $20 bills banded together in packages, each marked $1,000.

Miami Police Lt. James Knight said his estimate, without counting, was that the bag contained $500,000.

Transfer From Boat

Fox confirmed the ransom effort involved putting the suitcase filled with money into Biscayne Bay where it was apparently recovered by boat.

The boat came to shore near a residence on Brickell Avenue and the transfer to the auto was made.

Self had been in his patrol car about 6 a.m. making idle chatter with city policeman Matthew Horan when he saw the Volvo in the expensive residential area.

Self reported that he was chasing the car and, he said, several shots were fired from the carbine.

Asked if the FBI knew about the ransom payoff in advance, Fox said, "We'd prefer not to go into that."

Money Family

At Miami police headquarters, several FBI agents joined city and county officers in counting and photographing the recovered ransom.

Meanwhile, there were reports that the FBI is acting on the assumption that the Tuesday morning kidnap had been planned at least a week in advance.

The Atlanta Constitution, in its Thursday edition, quoted an unidentified FBI agent as saying, "We're traveling on the belief that it was a preplanned ransom kidnaping. All you have to do is look at the kind of family she comes from. They have a lot of money."

The girl's father is secretary-treasurer of Deltona Corp., a $65 million homebuilding firm in Miami. Among other interests, he heads the corporation which owns Key Biscayne Hotel where President-elect Nixon vacations.

Cambodia To Set 12 Soldiers Free

SAIGON (AP) — Cambodia announced today that it is releasing 12 American soldiers captured in the past year, and the Viet Cong offered to free three U.S. troops it holds and possibly more.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, told a news conference in Phnom Penh he was freeing 11 American soldiers and a South Vietnamese captured last July when their river boat strayed into Cambodian waters and an American helicopter crewman captured last month.

A Viet Cong spokesman in Paris said the three soldiers it is offering to release are Thomas Nelson Jones, Donald L. Smith and James W. Brigham. He gave no home addresses or other information.

The Australian Embassy in Phnom Penh, which represents the U.S. government in Cambodia, said it expected that the 12 Americans being freed there would be flown by commercial airliner to Bangkok Friday.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands in Saigon announced, meanwhile, that American, South Vietnamese and enemy casualties all increased last week although no major sustained ground fighting reported. The U.S. Command also reported four sharp skirmishes Wednesday in which it said American forces killed 131 enemy troops.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, told a news conference in Phnom Penh he was releasing his prisoners so they can spend Christmas with their families.

Sihanouk called another news conference two hours later to announce he had received a "cordial" message from President Johnson. He said the President told him the release of the prisoners would contribute to an improvement in relations between their two countries. Johnson also assured him of "the continuing friendship of the American people for Cambodia and its people," Sihanouk said.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Intelsat 3, the most powerful communications satellite ever launched, sped through space today on target toward a stationary outpost high above the Atlantic Ocean.

"Based on preliminary data, it appears the spacecraft is in a good transfer orbit," project officials reported after tracking the spaceship nearly 12 hours.

House Demos Pick Unifying Speakers

LANSING (AP)—The warring Democratic delegation in the state House of Representatives took a major step toward unity Wednesday, choosing a slate of leadership candidates which represents all the major party factions.

Although deeply divided by personality clashes and political philosophy, the House Democrats now appear likely to close ranks behind their candidates and vote as a bloc when the chamber elects its leadership Jan. 8.

The Democrats took over the House in the Nov. 5 election, netting three seats for a 57-53 edge over the GOP, and are in position to put their own choices in the top leadership jobs unless caucus dissidents refuse to back the party.

Countentment

That had appeared to be a distinct possibility until Wednesday's caucus. Now nearly everyone at least outwardly, is content.

Asked if he thought any Democrat would refuse to support the caucus slate of candidates, one lawmaker said: "I don't see how they could find any excuse not to."

Unless there is an unexpected rebellion, these nominees will find themselves in these jobs next month:

—For speaker, the chamber's presiding officer who earns an extra $5,000 a year, the majority caucus picked William Ryan of Detroit, an Irish, Roman Catholic, liberal, former president of a United Auto Workers local.

"Polish Caucus"

—For speaker pro tempore, Rep. Stanley Davis of Grand Rapids, a poland-born, catholic, conservative, law and order advocate and former mayor of Grand Rapids.

—For associate speaker pro tem, Rep. Matthew McNeely of Detroit, a negro baptist with a largely white constituency who is starting his third two-year term in the chamber.

—For majority floor leader, Rep. George F. Montgomery of Detroit, a 35-year-old former schoolteacher who, like Davis, first made a bid for the speakership in opposition to Ryan.

Davis, backed by the 14-member "Polish caucus" of the House, was runner-up in the bitterly fought contest for speaker. Sources said it took three ballots to elect Ryan.

Beats Jacobeti

On the third, they said, he had 30 votes—one more than the number needed—compared with 20 for Davis and five for Rep. Albert Horrigan of Flint.

Davis then announced his candidacy for the No. 2 House job, which pays $3,000 extra a year, and was elected, beating Rep. Dominic Jacobetti of Negaunee, Daniel Cooper of Oak Park and Vincent Petitpren of Wayne.

Ousted during the race for speaker were Davis, Montgomery, Horrigan and Rep. Arthur Law of Pontiac, who did not attend the caucus.

McNeely scored a surprise victory over Rep. George Edwards, another Negro lawmaker from Detroit.

Ryan — the apparent new House speaker—is a 49-year-old native of Morgantown, W.Va., and a veteran labor negotiator. As Democratic House leader in the minority days of 1967-68, he distinguished himself by fighting Republican Gov. George Romney to a standstill over the details of the new state income tax program.

Ryan, a devout Catholic and a hard worker, is a strong advocate of welfare measures and aid to nonpublic schools.

If elected speaker when the 75th Legislature convenes, he would replace Republican Rep. Robert Waldron of Grosse Pointe, whose party has chosen him to continue at its helm as House minority leader.

Johnson Joins Thousands In Bed With Flu

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, along with hundreds of thousands of other Americans across the country, is in bed today, recuperating from the flu.

Johnson, 60, entered Bethesda Naval Hospital Wednesday morning with what was described as a low-grade fever—101.6 degree temperature—and a chest cold.

Later, it was announced the President suffered from the flu but White House officials, saying Johnson was undergoing viral tests, declined to categorize its strain.

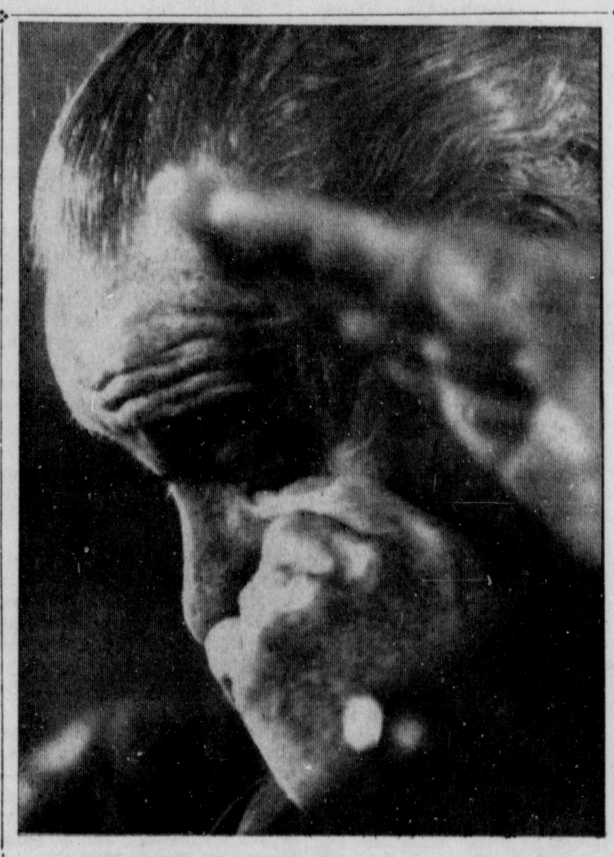

He was listed in satisfactory condition.

In Phoenix, Ariz., Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey also recuperated from the flu. He was stricken Sunday on his way to Los Angeles for a speech.

Johnson's official diagnosis, as given by his personal physician, Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, was that he suffered from an "upper respiratory infection with a slight bronchial irritation."

The President had all the symptoms suffered by someone with the miseries of a cold—stuffy head, running nose, rasping cough, slight sore throat and a hoarse voice.

The cold symptoms have been apparent for some time by those who regularly follow the President, but they seemed to get worse in recent days.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, shown rubbing an eye during a reception he attended Tuesday night, was admitted to Bethesda Naval Hospital Wednesday morning. A White House spokesman said the President was suffering from a chest cold and low grade fever. (AP Wirephoto)

8 New Jersey Police Indicted

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Eight policemen have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to violate and violation of civil rights of Negro residents during racial disorders last summer.

The indictment said the policemen assaulted one Negro, and broke windows of several business establishments operated by Negroes.

U.S. Atty. David Satz Jr. of New Jersey said the policemen were charged with violating a 1872 Civil Rights Act, the first such indictments against policemen brought in the state.

"Enough people came forward immediately with enough evidence to warrant presentation to the grand jury," Satz said.

A coalition of civil rights groups charged that the police department "rioted against the citizens, uncontrolled by their own authorities," while suppressing the disorders.

Nixon Backing U.S. Gold Price

LONDON (AP) — President-elect Nixon's backing of the official U.S. gold price of $35 an ounce steadied Europe's bullion and foreign exchange markets today.

The price of gold eased off Wednesday's six-month high in European markets, and the dollar strengthened in the foreign exchanges.

David Kennedy, who is to be Nixon's treasury secretary, refused at a news conference in Washington Tuesday to commit the new administration to defending the official price. His comments touched off speculation the price might rise.

But Nixon's chief spokesman, Ronald Ziegler, said no change was anticipated.

Kitchen Sinks

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — You've heard that old expression "everything but the kitchen sink?"... well, that aptly described the Newport Yacht Club.

Helen Enzwiler, a concessionaire at the floating club, said her steel-hull kitchen "just dropped out from underneath" and sank in about 20 feet of water Wednesday.

She estimated the loss at $80,000, but could not explain why the kitchen went down.

The sprawling club is composed of several connecting sections and sits on the Ohio River, just across from Cincinnati.

Father Of Ten Kills Four, Self

CARLINVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A father of 10 children opened fire on a welfare agency Christmas party for his family Wednesday, police said, killing four persons including his estranged wife and wounding four of his children. He then fled, shot himself and died hours later.

Authorities said Sherman Kline, 38, pulled out two pistols while gifts were being opened in the offices of the Illinois Department of Child and Family Services and began firing.

Killed were the wife, Lorraine, 33; two social workers, Frank Wildgrube, 24, and Bonnie Albracht, 23, both of Carlinville; and a receptionist, Ann Keppler, 25, of Benld, Ill.

Two of the children, Michael, 14, and Diane, 8, were in critical condition in a Springfield hospital, while the other two wounded youngsters, Gene, 13 and Judy, 10, were in serious condition in a Carlinville hospital.

After the shooting, Kline drove some 60 miles to the home of a brother near O'Fallon, Mo., where, the brother said, he admitted the shootings, but refused to give himself up.

Vernon Kline said his brother ran into some nearby woods, he heard a shot and called police. Officers found Sherman Kline with a bullet wound in his head. He died later at a hospital.

A spokesman for the welfare agency said he believed Kline was upset because he thought the agency had "come between himself and his family."

Miss Keppler, who was to have been married next March, was credited with saving the lives of two other secretaries in her office when she stepped between them and Kline as he fired into the office.

Kline, who separated from his wife in May, was reported to be a plumber for a St. Louis firm.

Mohawks Fight Canadian Police

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP) — All but three of 48 Mohawk Indians arrested after a two-hour uprising that blocked the international bridge linking the United States and Canada were released on bond early today.

A spokesman for the Cornwall City Jail said three persons remained in jail on charges stemming with the shouting, shoving demonstration Wednesday that blocked an international bridge for two hours in protest of Canada's failure to live up to the 1794 Jay Treaty.

Cornwall police said two shots from a hunting rifle slammed into the Canadian Customs House on the St. Regis Reservation, home of the protesting Mohawk Indians.

Not Indian Way

The Indians had fielded some 100 demonstrators for Wednesday's blockade.

The bridge was quiet early today.

Ernest Benedict, the craggy-faced, black-haired chief of the Indians, said there would be no repeat blockade.

"It is not the Indian way, to be arrested," Benedict said.

Canadian Police, unarmed, waded through a wall of angry Mohawks Wednesday and cleared away the 25 automobiles the Mohawks brought up to blockade the bridge.

There was no one hurt in the shots at the customs house. Cornwall police officers said they had no suspects.

Jay Treaty

A spokesman for the Cornwall jail said only three persons remained inside on charges stemming from the demonstration. The others were released shortly after midnight.

Benedict spoke to his tribesmen late Wednesday, making it clear that he was against further demonstrations against the Canadians, who drew the Indians' ire three weeks ago with the imposition of customs duties. The Mohawks, who live on both the Canadian and American sides of the bridge, contend the 1794 Jay Treaty guarantees them free passage.

Indian men, women and children threw their bodies in front of tow trucks sent to clear the automobiles. There were no injuries.

"I tried to keep everyone calm on both sides," Benedict said, his arms folded on the long kitchen table he sometimes uses for meetings with other tribal leaders.

"But it seemed too much to me. We were there for a purpose."

The Indians, members of the St. Regis Reservation that is bisected by the Canadian-American border, are angered because they say they are being forced to pay Canadian duties traveling on the bridge to and from the American and Canadian sections of the reservation.

This, they say, is a violation of the Jay Treaty of 1794, a treaty engineered by John Jay, chief justice of the United States and signed by the United States and Canada.

Storm To Dump 4-6 Inches In Escanaba Area

The weather in the Escanaba area may get worse before it gets better.

The U. S. Weather Bureau posted heavy snow warnings for the Escanaba area through tonight with 80 per cent chance of precipitation.

Snow began falling in Escanaba about 5 a. m. today with accumulations expected to range between four and six inches in the first major snowfall of the winter.

State Police reported all roads in the area snow covered and slippery with hazardous driving conditions. Troopers said the storm, which blew off Lake Michigan this morning, has moved into western parts of the Upper Peninsula and all stations reported snow coming down.

Flights Canceled

North Central Airlines canceled all flights into the Upper Peninsula at Green Bay through 2 p. m. A North Central spokesman said Green Bay also reported snow, but the airport was "holding its own."

The southbound flight at 7:53 a. m. into Escanaba from Marquette arrived and departed on schedule, however.

City and County plows have been at work since early this morning, but snow removal in Escanaba was being hampered by morning traffic.

The Delta County Road Commission reported all equipment on the roads.

Schools Close

It was announced that the Escanaba - Gladstone seventh and eighth grade basketball game scheduled today was canceled.

The storm forced closing of schools in the Hermansville, Carney-Nadeau, Powers-Spalding and Big Bay de Noc districts, where a large number of students rely on bus transportation to classes.

Escanaba, Gladstone and Holy Name schools all opened this morning, but were closed by noon because of the storm. Bus students in the Escanaba system were released from classes four hours ahead of normal dismissal.

The Weather Bureau said chance of measurable precipitation on the form of snow was 80 per cent tonight and 75 per cent Friday. Temperatures are expected to drop Friday.

In Lower Michigan, freezing rain made driving hazardous.

School closings numbered near 50, with some 30 shut in the western Lower Peninsula due to ice-slicked or snow-plugged roads.

Menominee, on Green Bay in the southwestern Upper Peninsula, reported heavy snow driven by winds ranging up to 35 miles an hour moved in before daybreak and heavy snow warnings were issued for Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie areas, where up to four inches were forecast.

Roads Drifted

Iron Mountain reported four inches on the ground, with strong winds causing drifting by 11 a.m.

Cadillac, in the northern Lower Peninsula, reported two to three inches of snow overnight, with winds causing road-plugging drifts and some schools in nearby areas shut because buses were unable to negotiate routes.

Cadillac and much of the ski country at the top of the Lower Peninsula were advised by the weather bureau to expect up to four inches of snow today.

Menominee reported school systems closed in Stephenson, Carney and Nedeau, but open in

Elbow Room For Coho Fishermen

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Coho salmon should be more widely distributed next year and hopefully the fishermen will be too, says fish expert David Borgeson of the Department of Natural Resources.

The department closed three streams to fishermen this year because shoulder-to-shoulder anglers trespassed on private property, trampled stream banks and interfered with the fish habitat.

Borgeson said the big salmon should be found in more streams next year. He added half a million were planted this year in Lake Huron while 1.1 million were turned loose in Lake Michigan.

Borgeson also cautioned fishermen not to wait too long to seek out the new sport fish. This year, he said, many anglers waited until Labor day and were disappointed.

"We did our best to apprise them that the best salmon fishing was in July and August," he said, "but they waited, and by Labor Day the best fishing was over.

"Next year," he added, "I think a lot of people are going to fish earlier and get the fish while they're in their prime."

Menominee, where normal school bus service was missing, however.

Moderating temperatures, however, were expected to alleviate the condition in the western Lower Peninsula as the day wore on, as well as in the Lansing, Ionia, Brighton, Ithaca, Flint, Bay City and Lapeer areas, where State Police reported icy conditions existing at 5 a.m.

Just plain rain fell in most areas which didn't get freezing rain or snow.

Snow Moves In

Ironwood, at the westernmost tip of the Upper Peninsula, reported a snowstorm moved in during the morning and Chatham, near Marquette, reported it "snowing softly".

In western Michigan, State Police reported ice-covered roads early in the day at Grand Rapids, Grand Haven, Hart and Newaygo, among other spots.

Alpena, on Lake Huron, and Houghton Lake, in mid-state, were among other points reporting snow.

Several schools in Grand Rapids were closed because of extremely hazardous driving conditions, as were schools in some Benzie, Manistee, Newaygo and Allegan county communities.

Gunman Robs Blind Couple

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A gunman robbed a blind couple of all their Christmas shopping money and threatened to kill their frightened, weeping son unless he kept quiet, police said Wednesday.

Deputy inspector of detectives Kenneth Marple said the robbery victims, Kenneth Northrop, 33, and his wife, Carolyn, had gone Christmas shopping Tuesday night, escorted by their sighted son, James, 8.

The gunman accosted the family on a South Side street, stuck a pistol in Northrop's ribs and told him, "I want your money."

Mrs. Northrop told the man, "We are blind and we don't have much money. Let us keep what little we have."

"I don't have any money," the gunman answered. "I'm a hippie. I can't get a job."

The Northrop boy started to cry. The man pointed a gun at his head and told the parents, "keep him quiet or I'll kill him."

The gunman took $51, then fled.

Petition Board To End Obscenity In College Paper

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — A three-pronged petition is being circulated in Ottawa County asking the Grand Valley State College Board of Control to take a firm position on the college newspaper, which has allegedly printed obscene literature.

The petition asks the board to:

—Adopt guidelines for college-sponsored publications which would include immediate dismissal of any student or faculty member who fails to abide by the rules;

—Eliminate indecency and obscenity from college publications;

—Announce publicly a policy on decency in education.

The Hudsonville City Commission earlier had passed a resolution commending county officials for initiating the action in which an injunction was served against the college, halting publication of the paper—the Lanthorn.

Also, editor James Wasserman, 21, of Muskegon, was arrested and arraigned on a charge of publishing obscene material.

He has been free on $5,000 bond pending a hearing which was delayed due to the death of his attorney, Joseph Legatz of Muskegon. Joseph Legatz Jr. has assumed the case for his father, but a court date has not been set.

Death Claims C. E. Forsythe

LANSING (AP)— Charles E. Forsythe, the state's director of interscholastic athletics from 1931 until last Aug. 1, died today at his Lansing home. He was 69.

"When a man of this stature is lost it is truly difficult if not impossible to pay just tribute," said Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction.

Forsythe, a noted authority on high school physical education, was a 1922 graduate of the University of Michigan. He played baseball and basketball at Milan High School, taking part in the first state high school basketball tournament in 1916.

He was a coach at Milan and athletic director at Lansing Central High School before becoming assistant state athletic director in 1929.

Hiawatha Forest Fires Burn Only 50 Acres In '68

Forest fires charred a total of only 50.1 acres in the Hiawatha National Forest in 1968, well under the five year average, according to Lawrence Haack of Escanaba, forest fire supervisor.

The fire season in the forest ended in November as fall rains and early snow before deer hunters entered the woods made it nearly impossible for a fire to get started.

Man Caused

The 50.1 acres burned during the year were the result of 18 small fires, Haack reported. This compares to a five-year average of 32 fires which burn 147 acres.

"All fires this year were man caused," Haack said. "Debris burning and railroads were the two main causes, accounting for half of the fires within the National Forest protection area.

"All other forest users combined — smokers, hunters, campers, loggers, fishermen and berry pickers, etc., caused only nine fires.

"Although the low number of fires can be credited generally to moist weather conditions, the Forest Service feels that much credit is due to the public being more careful in the woods," Haack continued. "The fire prevention program is paying off in tax dollars being saved in fire suppression costs."

Rainfall during the 1968 fire season was well above average. For the seven months, April through October, the weather station at Town Lake measured 28.99 inches of precipitation and Raco measured 28.86. This approaches the average annual precipitation of 30 inches and as a result the fire load indexes were low during most of the season.

April produced the greatest problem with eight fires reported. There were six fires in May and one each in March, June, July and August.

Air Detection Used

Air detection was used again this year as a replacement for fire towers. The aircraft used are privately owned and are under contract to the Forest Service. Jon Thorin Aviation of Escanaba flew fire patrols in the western unit of the forest and Chippewa Flying Service, Sault Ste. Marie, contracted for the eastern unit patrol.

The Hiawatha National Forest protects a total of 1,189,109 acres in Delta, Schoolcraft, Alger, Chippewa and Mackinac counties.

Of this total, 364,427 acres in private and state ownership.

Copper Range Company To Mine Its Woodlands

HOUGHTON (AP) — Copper Range Co., which has mined the minerals of Michigan's Upper Peninsula for 70 years, now is turning to mine its other great resource—its forests.

A $2 million wood fabricating complex just outside nearby South Range is to be put into operation by Copper Range in the first week of January. Expansion already planned contemplates another $250,000 investment in 1969.

The plant will draw its supplies from 185,000 Upper Peninsula acres owned by Copper Range, which manages its woodlands to assure a perpetual yield of timber.

Ultra Modern Plant

The development will be run by Copper Range's Northern Hardwood division, headed by William P. Nicholls, a Copper Range vice president. The highly automated plant will employ 80 to 85 men initially, with another 50 being required in the woods to keep raw supplies moving in.

The complex covers four acres. One of its buildings is 500 feet long—almost the length of two football fields—and Nicholls says the plant will be the most modern anywhere in the country. More than $30,000 of the investment went for equipment to minimize air pollution.

The plant will specialize in so - called dimension lumber (precut parts) for the furniture and other woodworking industries. Product examples are drawer and cabinet doors, chair bottoms and panels cut to specified shapes and sizes.

Northern Hardwood also plans to market so - called bolts, 100 inches long and seven inches in diameter from its stands of hard maple, yellow birch, ash, elm, oak, basswood and aspen.

Double In 3 Years

Nicholls sees the possibilities as "unlimited" and sees the company's production jumping from $1.8 million the first year of operation to $4 million in the third year, including the sale of chips to the paper industry and veneer logs.

Ground was broken for the new complex last July 18 and its conveyorized sawmill got pre-Christmas test runs.

In addition to sawing, the completed mill will be able to rough plane, rip, edge, glue, trim, shape, resaw, mold to pattern, finish plane, bend, turn, sand and package for shipment.

The $2 million initial investment in the wood fabricating complex raises to almost $200 million Copper Range's investment in the Upper Peninsula, where it is the area's second largest employer.

Its No. 1 operation here is the White Pine copper mine, mill and smelter, which employs some 2,500 and has an annual payroll of more than $20 million.

Its land holdings are spread over five counties, Houghton, Ontonagon, Keweenaw, Marquette and Baraga. And if it should ever run short on trees from its own lands it is assured an at-home abundance, since 80 per cent of the Upper Peninsula's land area is covered by trees.

Nixon Wedding Details Are Kept Very Private

NEW YORK (AP) — When Julie Nixon and David Eisenhower said they wanted their wedding Sunday to be a private affair, they really meant it.

The guest-list for the marriage of the daughter of the President-elect to the grandson of the former president is still a secret—although it has been learned there are few political or public figures included.

Information about Julie's wedding gown, her attendants' dresses, the single-ring ceremony at Marble Collegiate Church and the reception at the Plaza Hotel will not be released until the last minute.

No Coverage

And there will be no news coverage allowed either of the ceremony or the reception.

"Julie said she did not want anyone watching that wedding who was not a personal friend or someone she knows," Mrs. Gerry Van der Heuvel, Julie's mother's press aide, said Thursday.

To Hospital

Mrs. Van der Heuvel did give out a few tidbits—including the fact that the ceremony will be broadcast, via closed circuit television, to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower who is in Walter Reed Army Hospital recuperating from a series of heart attacks.

She also said that David's sister Barbara Anne, who was married Nov. 16, will be a bridesmaid and her husband, Fernando Echavarria-Uribe of Bogota, Colombia, will be an usher. Julie was one of Barbara Anne's attendants.

Bridal Parties

Asked about parties for the bride, Mrs. Van de Heuvel said there would be a luncheon given for Julie Friday at the Cosmopolitan Club by Susan Harvin of Houston, Tex., who will be a bridesmaid.

The rehearsal will be Saturday afternoon, by which time the church will be decorated with Christmas greenery and red and white poinsettias the Nixons requested for the platform at the head of the aisle.

The rehearsal dinner, given by David's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, will be Saturday night at a Manhattan restaurant.

Christmas Party Held On Sunday In LaBranche

Leading the audience in group caroling were Marilyn Murray, Barbara Welch, Janet Kasbahm and Kim Stebbing. Santa Claus visited the party and distributed candy bags to the children.

Following refreshments, the program was concluded with an installation ceremony for the club's newly elected officers. Officers for 1969 are: President, Janet Kasbahm; Vice President, Marilyn Murray; Secretary, Barbara Welch; and Treasurer, Mary Ann Shiverski.

Conservation Land For Public: Hickel

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Nixon's secretary of the interior, Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel, says the federal governmen has been wrong in placing large amounts of public land aside for strictly conservation use.

"Just to withdraw an area for conservation purposes—a vast area—and lock it up for no reason . . . and not make it available to the public is wrong, in my opinion," Hickel told a news conference Wednesday.

'The Judge,' New Car By Pontiac

PONTIAC (AP) — Pontiac Division of General Motors today announced it will introduce a new car similar to its GTO next month.

The car, called "The Judge," will have a 112-inch wheelbase and standard models will be equipped with a 366-horsepower, 400 cubic-inch engine and a three-speed manual transmission.

A Pontiac spokesman said the suggested retail price of the car would not be announced until shortly before it goes on sale late in January.

A distinguishing feature will be an air foil mounted on the rear of the car.

The four-seat vehicle will be available as a hardtop coupe or as a convertible.

What's With The Kids?

No topic tops the young generation in the magazines these days. The articles range rather widely in approach, but are mostly pro-youth.

The changes that we are witnessing in the young generation are a mixed bag. There's reaction to racism in some of it. Some is a campus eruption. But even where there are no blacks or campuses, things are different.

Richard Poirier, English professor at Rutgers, says in Atlantic Monthly "What is happening to the youth of the world deserves the freest imagination, the freest attention that the older people are capable of giving. It requires an enormously strenuous, and for most people, probably impossible intellectual effort."

Student activitists on American campuses, writes Martin Duberman, Princeton history teacher, in the same journal, are only a small minority of students, but a growing one. At Berkeley, where they caused so much trouble, their number was 15 per cent.

Activists score consistently higher on a wide variety of personality tests, including theoretical skills and social maturity. They are better students, with significantly better grade point averages than the non-activists.

Stanford's Nevitt Sanford after a study of the subject believes that changes in family life and child training since the 1930s prompted student activism (participation in peace marches, draft opposition, racism protests, etc.) But he feels that it is primarily a response to social conditions both in the university and in the world.

Students better know what goes on in college classrooms than do their parents and they think much of it is for the birds; that colleges are very backward compared with industry or the Army, in terms of their own relationships with them. Until recently they hadn't questioned the old assumption that the teacher knows truth, and his job is to transmit knowledge and it's the students' job to memorize it.

Any challenge to this assumption raices faculty and administration eyebrows. Even after the roughhouse at Columbia Jacques Barzun insisted that prexy Grayson Kirk "has always shown himself ready and eager for progressive changes." Duberman's answer: "Nothing in his attitude toward students would place him beyond 1915."

John D. Rockefeller 3rd spoke in praise of young revolutionaries at the Family of Man Awards dinner this fall. We could expect from him a rationalizing of change without despair or "All is lost" and we get it.

Asking how we explain the phenomenon, he said there are many theories and no entirely satisfactory answers. The young people, born after the Depression and under a nuclear shadow, feel time is running out on the great problems of war, racial injustice and poverty. They dislike the impersonal quality of large organizations and rapid technological change.

Because of the mass media and our freedoms the young learn faster and mature earlier and they become painfully aware of the differences between what older people say and what they do.

When Rockefeller started his inquiry into youth, he says, he was biased. It's probably true that most of us are. But at the same time he was disturbed like most of us by the far left extremists who say that our present society must be destroyed. They must be helped, he says.

"There's much to irritate and disturb the older generation," said Rockefeller "but we have let ourselves be distracted 'til we miss the central point of today's youthful protest. There is tremendous vitality here, and there is also great potential for good if we can only understand and respond positively.

"For the most part young people attempt to work within normal channels to present their grievances and establish a conversation with the older community. They tried to work through the political system (for McCarthy). They have made the Peace Corps, VISTA and the Teacher's Corps more than slogans. Law students today are concerned less with trusts and estates and corporate law and more about how just the laws are, how poor people and black people can get a better break before the law.

"The protesters are fired by their sense of moral righteousness. They feel it necessary to be loud and demonstrative to get results. This behavior strikes fear for the stability of American Society. The nature of our response is crucial, for it has everything to do with whether there will continue to be violence and whether violence will pay. Social protest has an honorable history and a rightful place in any enlightened society. It was social protest that brought this nation into being," said Rockefeller as quoted by Saturday Review.

"At the same time we must recognize that respect for law and maintenance of order are essential for protection of everyone in our society. But the concept of law and order is meaningless without justice. We must be ready to re-examine our assumptions and our laws. If we think the only answer is to suppress dissent — then the responsibility for violence hangs as heavily on us as it does on those who protest."

There's Still Talk About 'Promise' Of Television

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK—(NEA) — Remember Uncle Miltie? Remember Garroway at Large? Remember the big 10-inch home screen? Remember when people used to talk about "the promise of this exciting new medium, television?"

As oldtimers (over 35) will remember, it is now almost a human generation since the TV set made its first appearance in the American living room.

In the intervening years, Dave Garroway and Milton Berle have disappeared from the regular schedule. The 10-inch screen now sits in a portable model used as the second or even third set in the house.

As for "the promise of television"—well it depends on how you define fulfillment.

In these past 20 years, TV has become a $3 billion industry.

There are four national networks, dozens of station groups, syndicators, independent packagers and producers turning out viewing fare 24 hours a day.

There are nearly 85 million home sets in operation in the United States receiving programs live, on film, on tape by broadcast, satellite relay, community antenna or direct line.

For the average local station, up to 50 per cent of the revenue is gross profit.

On that side of the ledger, television has more than kept its promise.

On the other side of the ledger, the balance is not quite as handsome.

Despite round-the-clock programming, according to Ford Foundation TV consultant Fred Friendly, "Commercial television does not have the time to do all it could and should. That is because the object is to move goods rather than, say, ideas."

★ ★ ★

Despite the vast array of products turned out by networks, local stations, packagers and syndicators, television does not come close to programimng for everybody. So says a spokesman for Sen. John Pastore, who has helped shepherd legislation through Congress to fund noncommercial stations.

"Despite the continual change of schedule with new shows coming and old shows going," says one commissioner of the Federal Communication Commission, "everything in network TV—both commercial and noncommercial—seems to be done by the same handful of people. Discouraging, isn't it?

"The public airwaves are operated by a small group as though they were running their own autos."

★ ★ ★

Despite the tremendous strides in telecasting and reception during the past 20 years, Ben Kubasik, executive director of the National Citizens Committee for Public Television says, "Most viewers have no machinery for talking back.

"If they want to protest against the programs they are offered, how can they do it?"

All in all, says former NBC president Sylvester I. (Pat) Weaver, television is a monopoly protected in Washington by a lot of people who have an interest in keeping it that way.

"And the public doesn't know what it is being denied because nobody tells them," he adds.

★ ★ ★

Even among television's sternest critics, however, a reporter today still hears talk about "the promise of this new medium."

In that way, TV is a lot like Brazil, says Frank Pace, chairman of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. "Brazil is a country that always seems to have a great future, but very little present,' he notes.

As far as it goes, that simile covers both commercial and public broadcasting.

Almost from the first it became obvious that if the promise were to be fulfilled, it would have to come through noncommercial broadcasting. As a legislative administrator recalls of 1950, "You could see that commercial TV could not afford to program for everybody."

★ ★ ★

Consequently, in 1952 the Federal Communications Commission reserved 242 channels for educational broadcast.

Four years later, there were only 37 such stations on the air and very little likelihood of more in the near future. So Congress began to debate the question of granting funds for public television.

That debate lasted six years before the Educational Facilities Act of 1962 was passed.

In part, the delay can be traced to congressional fear of being accused of being in the propaganda business, says a spokesman for Sen. John Pastore, who helped get the law passed.

In part, too, the delay was the work of some members of the government who either owned or represented the owners of stations, groups or networks, according to a major network executive who testified during those years of hearings.

★ ★ ★

Throughout the debate, the FCC remained neutral. As one commissioner puts it, "Our job always seems to be to preserve the status quo until the industry in question secures its position."

With the Educational Facilities Act and its $32 million grant to noncommercial stations, over 100 new transmitters and studios were built, and public broadcast was added to the national TV diet.

Has it provided the alternative and fulfilled the promise of television? The answer seems to be largely negative.

Local noncommercial stations are dependent on local patrons for the donations that make programming possible. In Boston, for example, educational station WGBH has to do with an operating budget about one-quarter the size of what the local CBS outlet takes home in profit.

"In too many localities," says Ben Kubasik of the National Citizens Committee for Public Television, "educational station managers are afraid of offending their patrons with controversial programs. So they schedule a hard-hitting documentary for 1 a. m. and put cooking shows and nature films on in prime time."

In other localities there is a great temptation for the educational station manager to be arrogant and autocratic in his choice of programs and personnel, says Milt Bass, who has both worked in public television and reported on it.

Faced with problems at home like these, many educational stations have tended to abdicate their responsibilities to their commercial colleagues, they have begun to take more and more programs from NET —the National Educational Television Network.

"If anybody complains about a show," says Gerrard Appy, NET's director of station relations, "the local station manager can always blame 'those damn easterners' who produced it."

★ ★ ★

And so, like its commercial network colleagues, NET is faced with having to put out programs of national interest that will appeal to everybody.

"We can be just as bland, dull and repetitive as NBC, ABC and CBS," says an NET producer, "but without the big budget opulence they can afford."

As it turns out, commercial TV had nothing to worry about from the Educational Facilities Act. Quite the contrary. Says an executive of a commercial station group that also makes and distributes programs:

"Public television has been a big money maker for us. For one thing, they take the pressure off us to do 'worthwhile and significant' shows.

"And for another, in their localities they take a channel out of the competition for the advertising dollar—leaving us a bigger pie to cut up."

Most players would have simply played another top diamond. This would have allowed Bob to ruff in and end play George to go down only two, but Sidney led his jack of clubs. It didn't matter what Bob did at this point. He had already lost three spades, a trump and a diamond. He was still going to lose his last two spades and the queen of clubs.

Bob could have saved one trick from the wreck had he known where all the cards were before he started playing spades, but even the best players don't start with a photograph of the opponents' hands.

Strangely enough, Bob's score of minus 300 cost him nothing in the trials. It seems that a couple of North players passed to one spade and ran to two diamonds after East reopened with a double and West passed. Two diamonds was also doubled, whereupon South ran to two hearts and was doubled there.

No matter how well you bid and play, you can't expect to make every contract and good defensive play will sometimes set you several tricks.

When Bob Hamman went down three tricks at his two-heart contract, he congratulated George Rapee and Sidney Lazard on their fine defense.

It was good defense indeed. George opened the jack of trumps. Bob won in dummy, led a spade and put in his seven spot. George won and led another trump. Bob won that one also and led his queen of spades. George won and led a third trump. Back came a spade. George was on lead again. By this time, he had set up his eight of trumps so he cashed it, then played his nine of diamonds. Sidney was in for the first time.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — John Douglas McGilvray, 29, has passed the state bar examinations and will be admitted to practice law Jan. 9. His wife, mother, mother-in-law and father-in-law already are attorneys. "You have to be a lawyer in this type of family," McGilvary quipped.

DECISION VS. OPINION

In the U. S. Supreme Court, a decision is reached by secret vote of the justices and the chief justice then assigns a justice the task of writing the opinion in the case. An opinion is the statement of the reasoning by which the court fortifies its decision.

Wishes To Pay For Shoplifted Objects

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a teen-ager and one of the luckiest people on earth because I haven't been caught. I began to shoplift about a year ago. I was with a friend who picked up two tubes of lipstick in a drugstore. It looked so easy I decided to try it.

To make a long story short, I have shoplifted $47 worth of items from a big department store. (I kept track.) A few weeks ago I began to feel ashamed of myself. I also began to break out in a cold sweat every time I passed that store. Yesterday I decided to make a New Year's resolution: No more stealing.

I have $39 saved and I want to send it to the store. I'll send the rest when I can. Please tell me how to go about returning the money without revealing myself. Does this make any sense to you? — NEW LEAF

Dear New: Yes, it makes a lot of sense. Send the money (well wrapped so it doesn't show through the envelope) to the store's credit manager. Enclose a note saying, "This is part payment for merchandise I shoplifted. The balance will be sent later."

And now, I have an idea. Between us we could start a national trend toward honesty. I suggest that every person who is shoplifting — and wants to quit — follow your lead. Mail to the credit manager of a store you've stolen from, as much money as you can spare. It will serve as a symbol of "The New Leaf."

If the credit managers who receive these envelopes will let me know the names of the stores, I will publish them. Wouldn't it be wonderful if I heard from every one of the 50 states?

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I were married two years ago in Washington, D. C. It was a hurry-up affair in the judge's chambers because my fiance was leaving for Vietnam and received his orders suddenly.

Both of us regret that we didn't have a church wedding with all the trimmings. We have decided "better late than never." We want to be remarried on our third anniversary and invite all our relatives and friends to a real honest-to-goodness, bride-and-groom affair — new ring, satin gown, rice and the works.

My mother blew her stack when I told her. We have a little daughter now and my mother says no woman in her right mind would have a fancy church wedding after she has had a child. I think she is being very narrow - minded and old-fashioned.

Please print your answer so my mother can see it.—WHEELING, W. VA.

Dear Wheel: I'm printing your letter so YOU can see it, Doll. I agree with your mother.

New Dock Ready In Spring:

Iron Ore Shipping Ends Over C&NW Pocket Dock

BY DAVE ANDREWS

An era of iron ore shipping spanning more than 100 years ended in Escanaba this morning when Inland Steel's Wilfred Sykes cleared the Chicago & North Western Railway ore dock with 18,120 tons of pelletized ore for Indiana Harbor.

The Sykes, one of the most modern ore carriers on the Great Lakes, was the last vessel ever to load at Escanaba's present high-level pocket-type dock.

Next shipment of ore to move out of Escanaba next spring will be over the new low-level, conveyor-type dock which is under construction in the railroad's $16 million ore terminal development.

Had "Good" Year

Paul Schilling, C&NW dock agent, said the railroad loaded a total of 6,222,175 tons out of Escanaba this year, a drop of some 343,000 tons from last year's record of 6,566,689 tons.

Railroad officials, however, were pleased with the total.

"We feel we had a real good year, considering the handicaps we've worked under," Schilling said.

Wrecking crews already have removed 500 feet from the end of the dock and throughout the summer development of the new ore terminal has been underway, hampering ore shipping operations.

The ore moved from Escanaba during the season which began in April was 74 percent pellets, an increase from the 68 percent pellets shipped from Escanaba last year and reflecting the preference of the steel industry for the higher-grade pelletized product.

The ore was loaded into a total of 421 boats and came to Escanaba in 94,235 carloads. Last year, 446 boats were loaded with 100,478 carloads of ore.

To Remove Track

Schilling said crews will begin removing track from the present dock and tressel "as soon as weather conditions permit" and once track is removed the dock will be turned over to Minnesota Lumber & Wrecking Co. of Duluth for demolition.

He said the railroad hopes to begin stockpiling ore in Escanaba in late January for shipment over the new dock next spring.

"We hope to have a considerable stockpile of ore on hand for the opening of the new dock in April," he added.

Iron ore shiping began in Escanaba in 1864, when the North Western hauled 31,072 tons of ore to its first Escanaba ore dock, known as the Merchants Dock. In 1884, when records were first maintained, 1,355,000 tons of iron ore moved through Escanaba and in the subsequent 84 years only once — in 1932 — did ore shipments through Escanaba fall below 1,000,000 tons.

Since 1963, shipments have averaged more than six million tons annually.

Since 1964, more than 360,000,000 tons of ore originating on the Menominee, Marquette and Gogebic ranges have moved over Escanaba docks.

Had Same Design

Through the years, all ore docks at Escanaba have been basically the same in operation and design. Loaded cars of ore moved over the top of the dock, their contents dropping into storage pockets. When a vessel was ready for loading, the ship moved up to the dock and chutes connected to the pockets were lowered to the holds of the vessel.

With the opening of pocket docks, the ore would fall by gravity through the chutes into the vessel.

The present dock — Dock No. 6 — was built in 1903. The dock's length before removal of 500 feet this fall was 1,920 feet. It is 70 feet high and had 80,000 ton storage in 320 pockets.

The dock was reconstructed in 1924 and in recent years the railroad has expended about $300,000 each winter on repairs to keep the dock operational.

Next spring, a "new era" begins.

VEHICLE TRAFFIC in Escanaba was moving slowly this morning and snow covered streets made driving hazardous. Visibility also was poor as snow continued to fall. Accumulations ranging between four and six inches were predicted by the U. S. Weather Bureau today and tonight. (Daily Press Photo)

Phone Company Corners Vaccine

DETROIT (AP) — "Several thousand" of the 20,000 doses of Hong Kong flu vaccine that Parke, Davis & Co. has made available to Lower Michigan were bought by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., the company's physician Dr. William Jen Jr. said Tuesday.

A Michigan Bell spokesman said the company received the vaccine and innoculated its employes because of the need to maintain service to Bell customers.

George W. Pickett, head of the Wayne County Department of Health, has recommended that the vaccine be given to persons over 65, the chronically ill and persons working in jobs considered necessary to the public welfare, including utility companies.

A spokesman for the Detroit Edison Co. said his company had received less than 10 doses of the vaccine. Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. and the Detroit Police and Fire departments said they have not received any vaccine for their employes.

Meanwhile, the outbreak of flu and flu-like illnesses continued to spread through the area.

Absenteeism in Detroit public schools was reported to be around 17 per cent, double the normal rate.

ICC Chairmaness Is Virginia Mae Brown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Man's world will shrink a little bit more come Jan. 1 when the first woman ever to head an independent federal regulatory agency takes over the top job at the Interstate Commerce Commission.

She is Virginia Mae Brown, a chic, brunette lawyer and banker's daughter from West Virginia.

The $29,500-a-year job of heading the agency that regulates most of the nation's rail, trucking, bus and barge lines falls to her by rotation.

After a year as vice chairman she succeeds Paul J. Tierney, who remains one of the 81-year-old commission's 11 members.

Family Life

Mrs. Brown, appointed to the ICC by President Johnson four years ago, puts in an 8-to-5 day with plenty of homework but still finds time for a full family life with her lawyer husband, James V. Brown, and two daughters.

And she's just as much at home in the man's world of transportation.

"Whether you're a man or a woman, you have to keep up, be well informed and provide solid accomplishment," she says.

The trim, well-coiffed Mrs. Brown went to work for the state of West Virginia the year she graduated from the state university's law school—1947.

Outstanding Woman

She scored a number of firsts for a woman during her state career becoming executive secretary to the West Virginia Judicial Council, assistant state attorney general, legal counsel to the governor and state insurance commissioner.

Her husband, a college sweetheart, is in private practice in Washington.

The Browns go to occasional social events but Mrs. Brown says "I don't go if Jim can't go with me. I made that decision when we were married."

She says that she has reached a basic philosophy about her work with the 10 men commissioners:

Work Hard

"If you work hard enough at your job and do the best you can, using your best judgment, you become part of the organization you serve. I feel I can do anything I want if I work hard enough."

The ever-growing mountains of paperwork which often go home with her for study after the family dinner she cooks herself, don't faze her a bit.

"It's good exercise for your mind," she says. "It keeps you on your toes."

VIRGINIA MAE BROWN, 45, a West Virginia Lawyer, was named Tuesday by the Interstate Commerce Commission as its chairman for 1969. When she takes office Jan. 1, she will become the first woman ever to head an independent administrative agency of the federal government. (AP Wirephoto)

Senior Citizens Hold Annual Holiday Party

Senior Citizens committee of the Chamber of Commerce held their annual Christmas party Tuesday evening at the Central Methodist Church.

Refreshments served by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lewke preceded the 7 p. m. banquet served by the WSCS committee, Mrs. Ralph Anderson, chairman.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Robert Selberg and the welcome address and comments on the Senior Citizen committee activities were given by Walter Lewke. Chairman John Bartella introduced the members and their guests.

Rev. Karl J. Hammar gave a spiritual message on the birth of our Saviour. Christmas music was presented by a group of young people from the Escanaba Area High School Orchestra, under the direction of Robert Chase, high school orchestra director. Accompanist was Mrs. John Chown.

The evening was completed by the singing of Christmas carols accompanied by the Rev. Selberg. The Rev. K. Hammar gave the benediction.

School Program Held Monday At Ford River

The Ford River Elementary School Christmas program, "Joy to the World," was presented at 7 p. m. Monday at the school. Decorations were coordinated by Ann Youngs and Beverly Moraco was in charge of the music.

All grades school students participated in the program. Group singing was led by Mrs. Moraco. Santa also visited each room and presented treats to the children.

Cleaning Recipe

A good recipe to remove discoloration from Teflonware is: 2 tablespoons baking soda, 1 cup water and ½ cup liquid chlorine bleach. Boil 10 minutes.

Storing Hint

When putting summer things away in the attic for winter, label each package to save needless unwrapping when you need it later. Tie packages with wet string. This shrinks as it dries and gets tighter.

Santa and the Hippies

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Ding Dong goes to the Purple Witch but he cannot see her. She is dying for lack of something to read.

CHAPTER 15
HIPPIE POEMS

ALL the time the Purple Witch was dying Ding Dong stood outside her door hoping that somewhere a book would be found that would make her well so that he could ask for the purple thread.

The Purple Witch Doctor came out of the bedroom looking very solemn indeed.

"She is eating her book mark," he announced. "Soon all will be over."

"The book mark!" cried Ding Dong aghast. "But—that's the purple thread!"

"Yes. It is her most valued possession because it reminds her of all she's read."

"But she can't eat it!"

"She doesn't want to leave it behind. When she has finished it, she will die."

"I won't let her," shouted Ding Dong. He brushed past the astonished doctor and burst into the Purple Witch's room.

She was sitting by the window chewing on the purple thread. She looked sadly up at Ding Dong but she couldn't really see him because she didn't have on even one of her five pairs of glasses. She thought he was the Witch Doctor and she murmured sorrowfully, "Oh, doctor. It is so sad. If I had just one new thing to read I would recover for I'd be refreshed enough to go through my whole library again."

"These are poems by hippies," said Ding Dong.

"I have something you've never read!" cried Ding Dong, digging frantically into his paper bag. "Listen!" He read one of the poems given him by the hippies of Hippieville.

"Up goes the elevator
"Down goes the alligator."

The Purple Witch stopped nibbling on the purple thread.

"Fingers freeze
"Parakeets sneeze," read Ding Dong.

The Purple Witch got out of her chair and cocked her head, listening.

"Fishes swim
"To keep in trim," went on Ding Dong.

The Purple Witch put on all her five pairs of glasses. "What is this? What are you reading?"

"Poems by hippies. There are lots of them."

The Purple Witch snatched the bundle of poems from his hands and began to read. Her eyes grew bright and her cheeks rosy. "Something new at last!" she breathed. "What originality! What depth of feeling! How they go to the heart of the matter! How do they do it?"

"I bet you could do it, too," said Ding Dong hopefully.

"If only I could! How refreshed I would be!" She thought and thought and finally she said slowly:

"When the north wind blows
"I like—I like—I like
"To wiggle my toes!"

"There!" exclaimed Ding Dong. "You are a hippie poet."

"My dear boy," said the Purple Witch joyfully, "I am well again. How can I ever repay you?"

Ding Dong pointed to the purple thread still dangling from her fingers. Only an inch or so had been eaten. "Will you give me that?"

"My book mark! I cannot read without it!" she protested. Then she said. "But I won't need it anymore. From now on I shall write hippie poems and leave it to others to read."

Smiling shyly, she gave the thread to Ding Dong.

Santa Is Ho-Ho Phony: Minister

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — "Dear Santa, drop Dead!," says a Methodist minister who thinks the jolly symbol of Christmas is getting too much publicity.

"Santa's omnipresence from before Thanksgiving has gone beyond the bounds of even mythic decency," the Rev. Dr. John H. McCombe Jr., head of the Hendricks Chapel at Syracuse University, said in his Christmas sermon.

Santa Claus, Dr. McCombe said, "is a ho-ho phony whose jingle is the bell of a cash register," and because of him, "many people are ready to overhaul their observance of this midwinter bash."

"Overexposure, I guess you'd call it," the minister said. "His picture is everywhere—literally. Stores, shops, billboards churches—even a funeral parlor. How much is too much."

Dr. McCombe, a past executive secretary of the American Bible Society who has been at Syracuse for one year said members of his own family had reassessed its own Christmas-time practices and found that they "felt miles away from the main event at the manger."

"The jolly oll elf has become a pest," he said, "as have his legions of 'helpers' in red baggy pants with with their banging, begging bells."

So last year, he continued, "we stripped Christmas down to its faith, streamlined its festivities and kept Santa in his place.

"Instead of a quarterback sneak into the living room and a mad scramble to intercept packages, we went into a prearranged huddle in the dining room that included prayers, carols and the reading of the Christmas story from the Bible."

Is was, Dr. McCombe said, "the best holiday ever."

New Telephone Service To Begin In Trenary

The new building to house dial switchboard equipment for the proposed one party telephone service for the Trenary exchange of the Chatham Telephone Company has just been completed. Laine Builders of Marquette have been doing the work under a contract with the telephone company.

Three employes of the Stromberg-Carlson Company started Monday to install the new switchboard under an accelerated program in which the company hopes to transfer present customers to the new equipment on Feb. 4 at 6 a. m. Service is presently being handled by equipment that was damaged by a fire on Nov. 30.

Every customer in the exchange will have a new telephone number on that date and a temporary directory will be issued prior to that time. Direct distance dialing will also be available to all customers in the Trenary exchange on Feb. 4.

Vienna Books NMU Chorale

The Northern Michigan University's Arts Chorale, a group of 20 voices, has been invited to participate in an international music festival in Vienna this coming August and has accepted. Announcement was made by Dr. John Jamrich, president of Northern. It is a tribute to the music standards developed at Northern that its chorale should be asked to take part in a Symposium on Choral Music in the Viennese classic tradition, the event being sponsored by the American Choral Directors Association and the Institute of European studies.

The chorale is under the direction of Dr. James McKelvey, now in his fourth year at Northern.

The Northern Arts Chorale will spend two weeks in Vienna for the symposium, then appear in concert in a two and a half week tour of Central Europe.

It will take several thousand dollars to send the Chorale to the event and the Northern Michigan Development Fund has accepted as a project the raising of funds to meet the expenses.

The Chorale, whose roster is just about completed now, is already working on program assignments, and during the second semester at Northern will make an intensive study of German, the culture of Vienna and the music history of the classic period.

Northern is one of five college choirs being invited to Vienna. The others are from University of Texas, University of Missouri, Hendricks College and University of Oklahoma.

Sports Fishing Changes Detailed

Sports fishing regulations for 1969 include many changes from existing regulations, according to the Dept. of Natural Resources.

Fishermen are urged to study law digests to become familiar with the changes and where questions arise to contact a conservation officer.

Some of the changes are:

All species of trout and salmon may be taken from inland lakes, except for designated trout lakes, and from the Great Lakes at any time. Certain trout lakes in the Upper Peninsula also will be open to fishing in January and February, but listings of those lakes are not yet available.

Limits Cited

There is a seven-inch limit on brook trout on inland waters. On all other trout species, a 10-inch limit applies on inland and Great Lakes waters. Daily and possession of five singly or in combination is in effect when fish are taken from lakes.

The season for the pike family—walleye, sauger, northern pike and muskellunge—on non-trout streams, inland lakes (excluding trout lakes) and Lakes Michigan and Superior will run from May 15 to Feb. 28. Size limit is 13 inches for walleye and sauger, 30 inches for muskies and 20 inches, generally, for northerns.

Under special conditions, the department said, northern pike of a lesser length may be taken. Conservation officers should be consulted on these conditions. The daily and possession limits on all pike family species is five singly or in combination, except for muskies where the limit is one.

No Laker Spearing

New also in 1969 is the regulation that lake trout no longer may be taken by spear in any waters of the state. The general spearing season in inland waters continues unchanged.

The white bass daily and possession limit on Great Lakes has been reduced from 25 to 10.

Continuing unchanged are regulations providing for a combined total of bluegill, sunfish, crappie, rock bass and warmouth bass of any size at any time from the waters of the Great Lakes, inland lakes (excluding trout lakes) and non-trout streams. Likewise, perch may continue to be taken from these waters without regard to size or creel limit.

Okinawa is the central link in the Ryukyu archipelago.

Alumni Cage Quints Will Clash Dec. 26

Coaches Spike O'Connell and Bob Dufour will be starting workouts this weekend with their teams in preparation for the 11th annual Escanaba-Holy Name Alumni basketball game slated to be played Thursday, December 26, at the Holy Name High School gymnasium.

Proceeds from the game, annually a highlight of the holiday season, go to the Holy Name High School Scholarship Foundation. The first scholarships were awarded in 1958 and since that time more than $16,000 has been awarded in scholarship grants to worthy graduates.

Both coaches, O'Connell for the Eskymos and Dufour for the Crusaders, will be fielding almost the same teams which played in last year's contest. The last two games have gone into double overtimes, Escanaba winning last year, 98-91. The Eskymo alumni hold an 8-2 edge in the series.

Tom McDonough and Casimir Milkewicz are again the chairmen for the event which this year will include talks by Mayor Cecil Chase and Father Carmody, Holy Name superintendent. Also included in this year's program is some halftime entertainment and the Holy Name Booster Club's presentation of a snowmobile.

A preliminary game between the 7th and 8th grade teams from St. Anne's and Flat Rock will get underway at 6:30 and the alumni game will follow at 8.

Referees for the two games will be Doug Bovin and Bob Jensen in the preliminary game and Dave Rivard and Pat Moran for the finale. Tom Hughson will serve as master of ceremonies and introduce the two alumni squads. Alumna from the two schools are being sought to act as cheerleaders and Pat Henderson, Holy Name band director, will arrange the music for the game.

Tickets for the contest will be available at the door and will cost $1 for adults and 50c for grade school students.

The following practice schedule has been set up for the two squads:

Saturday, Dec. 21 — Holy Name 9-10 a. m.; Escanaba 10-11 a. m.

Monday, Dec. 23 — Holy Name 9-10:30 a. m. and 1-2:30 p. m.; Escanaba 10:30 a. m.-12 noon and 2:30-4 p. m.

Tuesday—same as Monday's schedule

Thursday—same as Monday's schedule

Hockey Event Begins Friday

DETROIT (AP) — There will be a touch of hometown atmosphere about the fourth annual Great Lakes Invitational hockey tournament that begins Friday at Detroit's Olympia stadium.

The favored University of Michigan Wolverines, Michigan State, and host team Michigan Tech all have a total of eight Detroit area players.

The two-day tournament gets under way at 6:30 p.m. Friday when Michigan State, already beaten twice by Michigan this season, meets the Wisconsin Badgers.

Michigan State and Wisconsin split a pair of games recently, and Wisconsin, which also beat Michigan once, is a co-favorite to win the tournament.

The Badgers are playing as independents this season but are expected to join the Western Collegiate Hockey Association in the near future.

Michigan, led by All-American goalie Jim Keough meets Michigan Tech at 8 p.m. Friday. The Wolverines, fast this year but smaller than in the past, have scored only 13 goals in four games, losing once to Wisconsin. Keough has held opposing shooters to 2.5 goals per game.

Pistons Register First Victory Under Seymour

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Pistons pulled big Dave DeBusschere back to double team the "Big E" Elvin Hayes of the San Diego Rockets—Wednesday night, and when the scrapping was over Hayes had 19 rebounds and 40 points but Detroit had a 124-112 victory.

A total of 63 personal fouls were committed by the two teams; Detroit had 32 of them and guard Dave Bing fouled out with 9½ minutes of play left in the last period. There were 65 turnovers in the game.

"The difference is that you win," said Happy Hairston by way of explaining what enabled the Pistons to overcome an eight-game losing streak. In snapping their own, the Pistons handed the Rockets a fourth straight loss.

New coach Paul Seymour, who replaced Donnis Butcher Dec. 2 said, "We're inconsistent, but except for the first quarter we played good defense. We made them turn the ball over a lot."

The Rockets took off like one, though, blazing a 12-3 lead in the first two minutes. But Hairston and Jimmy Walker, who each collected 27 for the night, ran off 10 straight points in the second period to bring Detroit back to trail by only three, 57-54 at the half.

The Baltimore Bullets, meanwhile, posted their sixth straight victory, beating San Francisco 109-100, and maintained a precarious, one-game lead over the Philadelphia 76ers who whipped Seattle 115-111.

In other games, New York turned back Boston 104-98, Atlanta stopped Milwaukee 122-116 and Phoenix defeated Cincinnati 123-114.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana topped Miami 122-118 in overtime, New Orleans whipped New York 117-113 at Jackson, Miss., Denver defeated Houston 111-102 and Kentucky checked Los Angeles 115-107.

The Bullets had only an 80-76 lead after three quarters against the crippled Warriors, but then Loughery scored 10 of his 26 points to put it away.

Teammate Gus Johnson contributed 21 points and 23 rebounds—15 in the final half—and Wes Unseld had 26 rebounds and 15 points to offset a 30-point showing by San Francisco's Jeff Mullins.

The Warriors, suffering their eighth loss in nine games, played without star Nate Thurmond and Clyde Lee.

Philadelphia, in extending its mastery over Seattle, staved off a last-ditch rally by the Super Sonics and whipped them for the 10th consecutive time. The Sonics, who came into the league last season as an expansion club, never have beaten the 76ers.

Philadelphia led 60-58 at halftime, and then pulled in front 101-85 early in the fourth period before the Soncis launched their spirited comeback.

Seattle closed within 112-111 with 61 seconds to go on a basket by Lenny Wilkens only to have the 76ers score the final three points.

The Sonics' Bob Rule garnered scoring laurels with 36 points and Chet Walker provided most of Philadelphia's punch with 30.

Phoenix reeled off the first nine points and was never headed after that in preventing Cincinnati from capitalizing on Boston's loss and moving into third place in the Eastern Division.

Gail Goodrich, who finished with 34, scored 15 points in the opening quarter to help stake the Suns to the early lead. Then, after being blanked in the second quarter, he came up with 17 in the third session to thwart a Royals' rally.

Jerry Lucas topped Cincinnati with 24 points, Oscar Robertson had 23 and Connie Dierking 22.

Atlanta shook off a late Milwaukee rally for its sixth straight victory to move to with-in 4½ games of idle Los Angeles in the Western Division.

New York rolled to a 64-48 halftime edge, then withstood a rally to hand the Celtics their third straight loss.

Boston slowly revived during the third quarter and tied it 71-71 on Don Nelson's hook. But Walt Bellamy, who scored 18 points, countered with six in a two-minute span to trigger the Knicks to an 82-78 lead.

Tom Gola, former professional basketball star, is in his first season as coach of the LaSalle College quintet of Philadelphia.

Area Cagers Play Holiday Wrapups

With the exception of two makeup games, all area high school basketball teams will close their schedules for the Christmas Holidays tonight and Friday night. Included in the games are some rather important games for some of the schools.

The makeup game at Perkins with Felch and the Channing-Carney game at Carney have been scheduled for Monday, Dec. 23. The games were postponed a week ago when bad roads forced the schools to call the games off.

Two other games snowed out last Friday, Hermansville at Republic and Powers at National Mine, have been rescheduled for Feb. 18 and Jan. 3 respectively. The Powers-National Mine game will be played at 3 p.m.

One of the top games of the season thus far will pit the Escanaba Eskymos against the Menominee Maroons at the Escanaba High School gym on Friday night at 8:30. The Maroons lost their first regular season game in two years on Saturday night against the Marquette Redmen, a team which Escanaba has already defeated this season.

Both Menominee and the Eskymos play in the Great Northern Conference and both are undefeated in conference play. Escanaba notched a victory over Kingsford in its last outing and stands 2-1 on the season. John Moberg and Dan Mylander have been scoring most of the points in the Eskymo's offensive attack thus far along with 6 foot 4 inch sophomore more Tom Kangas. Veterans Dave Haglund and Dewey Bellisle have been providing most of the thrills for the Menominee fans this season.

Another Great Northern Conference contest will find the Iron Mountain Mountaineers playing host to the Holy Name Crusaders, also on Friday night. Holy Name is 2-2 on the season and both losses total a three point difference.

The Crusaders halted the streak at four games last Friday night but looked sluggish in a one-point loss to the Stephenson Eagles on Tuesday night. Most of the Holy Name scoring punch has come from 5 foot 8 inch guard Al Grabowski and 6 foot 5 inch center Terry Dufour, although Dufour, last year's leading scorer, hasn't been able to reach his scoring potential in Holy Name's four starts this season.

The Gladstone Braves, 4-1 on the season, play host to the Manistique Emeralds in a Great Lakes Conference encounter on Friday night at 8. The Braves are 2-1 in conference play and need to win if they are going to have a chance to catch the front-running Munising quintet, 4-0 in the conference.

Coach Bill Wood's Braves had a big scoring effort in downing Newberry 94-62 last Friday night. Six foot five inch forward Steve Nelson finally got untracked in the Newberry game and ripped the nets for 37 points as he hit 17 of 26 field goal attempts. Up until Nelson's big game Friday, guard Mark Weber has been carrying the Braves' scoring load.

Manistique has been having trouble scoring points in their five starts this season and have won only one game of the five. Bob Males does most of the Emeralds' scoring and the play of Sophomore Kendall Neeson has been most pleasing to Coach Rudi Brandstrom.

Big Bay de Noc and Perkins will square off in a big Central League encounter tonight at Perkins. Perkins is 1-1 in conference play and Big Bay stands 2-1. Big Bay's only loss this season in five games came at the hands of the Rapid River Rockets last Friday night. Bill Hartman has been the leading scorer all season, although being held to only seven points by Rapid River Friday.

Other area games will find Republic at Powers, Hermansville at Felch and Bark River at Carney.

Colts' Shula Receives Coach Of Year Honors

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Shula, the boss man of the Baltimore Colts, has been named Coach of the Year in the National Football League by the overwhelming vote of a 48-man panel for The Associated Press.

A committee composed of three sportswriters or sportscasters from each of the league's 16 cities gave Shula 31 votes.

Jim Dooley, who did such an outstanding job with the Chicago Bears despite a series of crippling injuries to his quarterbacks and Gale Sayers, received eight votes.

Blanton Collier, whose Cleveland Browns will meet Dallas for the Eastern Conference title Saturday at Cleveland, drew six votes. Tom Landry, Dallas coach got one vote. Two members of the panel did not vote in this category.

Shula shared the coach of the year honors with George Allen of Los Angeles last year and won it all alone in 1964, the year his Colts were knocked off by Cleveland in the title game.

The 38-year-old Baltimore coach has compiled an enviable record of 63-18-3 in his six seasons as head man of the Colts. A hard-nosed defensive back who spent seven years in the NFL, Shula was an assistant coach at Virginia and Kentucky before he went into the pros as a defensive coach at Detroit in 1960.

Shula still is young enough to be accepted by his players as one who is familiar with their problems. In fact, some of the Colts are almost as old as Shula. Ordell Braasem right defensive end is 36, John Unitas and Dick Syzamnski are 35 and Earl Morral is 34. Shula also is old enough to know how to deal with the players when a heavy hand is required.

Despite his fine winning record at Baltimore, Shula's career has been marred by many heartbreaking setbacks. The Colts were the beaten favorites in Cleveland 27-0 in the 1964 title game and lost a sudden death tie playoff at Green Bay 13-10 for the Western Conference championship in 1965.

In 1967, they were unbeaten until the last game of the season when a 34-10 defeat in Los Angeles knocked them out of a shot at all the post season money.

Under Shula's direction, the offensive line has been rebuilt around such young men as tackles Bob Vogel and Sam Ball guards Glenn Ressler and Dan Sullivan and center Bill Curry.

It was to Shula's credit that he was able to keep his club up for one tough game after another, despite the defeat by Cleveland, Oct. 20. They fired back the next week and beat Los Angeles and kept right on moving to close with eight straight.

Substitute Quarterback Named Top NFL Player

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Morrall, obtained in a trade as a backup quarterback for John Unitas, played the role of the hilt during the 1968 National Football League season.

Morrall not only replaced the ailing Unitas as the Baltimore Colts' quarterback, he also succeeded Unitas as the NFL's Most Valuable Player in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 34-year-old Morrall, playing for his fifth NFL team, accepted the honor Wednesday about as unobtrusively as he took over as Baltimore's No. 1 signal caller.

Morrall was traded in 1966 to New York by the Detroit Lions.

"This is certainly the biggest personal honor I've ever received," he said quietly. Then came a gross understatement:

"Never in my wildest dreams did I think anything like this would develop at the time of the trade."

The Colts picked up their gem at bargain basement rates—swapping reserve tight end Butch Wilson to the New York Giants during the exhibition season.

At the time, Unitas was bothered by his chronic elbow tendonitis but performing capably. An injury to reserve quarterback Jim Ward actually spurred the Colts to make the deal.

But Unitas tore a muscle in his elbow in the final preseason game and, suddenly, Morrall was No. 1.

In his 13th season, Morrall wound up as the league's top passer under the NFL's complicated grading system—about the only passing honor which has eluded Unitas during a distinguished career.

Morrall completed 182 of 317 passes for 2,909 yards and 26 touchdowns while leading Baltimore to a 13-1 record, the Coastal Division championship, and Sunday's Western Conference title game against the Minnesota Vikings.

Morrall, who also was named the NFL All-Star quarterback, received 33 votes in the balloting by a panel of 48 writers and sportscasters from the 16 league cities.

Leroy Kelly, the Cleveland running back who won the NFL rushing title, was a distant second with five votes, followed by Cleveland quarterback Bill Nelsen, who received four.

There was one vote each for John Mackey, Baltimore tight end; Dick Butkus, Chicago middle linebacker; Bob Lilly, Dallas defensive tackle, and Gale Sayers, Chicago running back. Two committee members did not vote in the MVP category.

"I'm happy for Earl," Baltimore Coach Don Shula said. "He certainly deserves the award. I can't say enough good things about the job he did.

"It wasn't easy coming in here as he did. But he worked hard at adjusting to our system, and you could see the improvement each week.

"Perhaps his biggest accomplishment was directing the opening game victory after being with us such a little time."

The consecutive MVP awards to different quarterbacks indicated the over-all strength of the Colts, Shula said, but he credited Morrall's adaptability for making it possible.

"Not many players would be capable of doing what he's done," said Shula, who faces the vexing problem next season of which MVP to start at quarterback.

Speed Limit 50 At Thompson

A 50-mile per hour speed limit has been approved for the village of Thompson, State Rep. Charles H. Varnum of Manistique announced this week.

Varnum said that the Michigan State Dept. of Highways approved the recommendation and that two signs will be posted on either side of U. S. 2 near the intersection of M-149 advising motorists of the legal speed limit. The signs will be erected sometime within the next 30 days.

The new speed limit is the result of a request by Varnum, a radar speed study and a joint investigation conducted by the State Dept. of Highways and the Michigan State Police. Increased activity in the Thompson area due to the coho salmon boom and several recent accidents in the area stimulated the need for such a study.

Nursing Facility Needed, Reque Tells Supervisors

A 60 to 75 bed licensed Nursing Home Facility could be utilized to capacity in the county, Supervisor Thor Reque told the Board of Supervisors Tuesday night. Reque reported on a joint meeting of the County Welfare Committee and the County Welfare Board Monday night and said his Committee recommended that the county offer its services to any private group willing to construct a Nursing Home in Schoolcraft County.

The Committee suggested that the county redesignate land it owns behind the existing hospital to any private group who would construct, own and operate such a facility. (Three years ago this land was designated to the Michigan Baptist Association who expressed interest in constructing such a facility.) Should private developers accept the land at a token $1 payment for such purposes, a reversion clause would be attached to the contract protecting the county's interests.

Facility Needed

Reque said the joint conference pointed out the need for such a facility and that should the interest of the private developers lag, as a last resort the county should back the project.

City Supervisor A. J. Cayia Jr., spokesman for the Building Committee, displayed an architect's concept of a new court house for the county which would cost in the neighborhood of $619,300. Cayia said G. Arntzen & Co. of Escanaba had drawn up the plans for a complex which would front on U. S. 2-Maple St. and fulfill the need for more office space.

The Welfare Dept. is overcrowded and with the necessity of providing quarters for the new District Court, plus lessening the cramped space of other county departments, a new court house should be considered right now, Cayia said.

The present court house was constructed in 1901 and, while it is structurally sound, it is not large enough to accommodate the many county offices now in existence.

Federal funding for such construction is not now available, Cayia said, but he suggested the county submit an application.

Financing for the new court house would require an estimated one to one and a half mills per year for a 30-year period. The report also suggested that the new county board contact a bonding company and have a bonding consultant talk to the board.

The possibility of the old court house being used as a museum, historical center or a storage depository was mentioned.

County Has Surplus

County Treasurer Bill Cowman reported that the county should end the year with approximately $7,500 in the general fund, the first time in over 20 years that no deficit has been carried. Cowman attributed state income tax payments, delinquent tax payments, among others, for the change in financial picture.

In other business: The board approved a $50 per month increase allowance for Sheriff Lloyd Gray for processing auto driver licenses. Gray will receive $100 monthly for his services.

Boyd Briggs of Manistique was appointed county zoning administrator and the interim zoning ordinance amendments were adopted, effective Dec. 17.

On recommendation of Prosecuting Attorney Gottfrid S. Johnson the board went on record approving the splitting of lots in recorded subdivisions and urged each township and the city to adopt such an ordinance. A statute now prohibits splitting of lots, but the ordinance would retain the limits set up according to the county zoning ordinance and the plat law.

Chairman Joel Carley of Inwood Township reported on the meeting of state supervisors in Lansing last week.

Several resolutions were passed by the board commending various chairmen and department heads for their cooperation. Tuesday's meeting was the last official gathering of the 13-man board. A new seven-man board takes office Jan. 1.

Legislative Committee Labeled Prejudiced On Nonpublic School Aid

LANSING (AP) — A citizens group that battled last year against proposed state aid to nonpublic schools leveled a blast Wednesday at what it termed "flagrant display of prejudice" by a joint legislative committee studying the issue.

"The majority of this committee has (used) legislative powers to serve the interests of the parochial school lobby," charged Citizens to Advance Public Education (CAPE), which says it includes some 1,200 members across the state.

The legislative committee, headed by Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo, began its study of aid to private and parochial schools earlier this year after the controversial issue failed to reach the House or Senate floor.

Legislators last week named a nine-member citizens advisory committee to help develop ideas for nonpublic school aid.

Suspect Ties

CAPE charged that the citizen committee was "noteworthy for its distinguished majority of parochial adherence."

Mrs. Harriett Phillips of Huntington Woods, a CAPE spokesman, said several members of the citizens committee had direct connections with organizations that have endorsed the principles of state aid to nonpublic schools.

"CAPE cannot help but condemn such flagrant display of prejudice," the organization said. "We wonder what catastrophy in our public schools has to occur before our elected representatives are as aroused to act as they apparently are on behalf of the parochial schools."

CAPE said it "cannot allow the majority of Michigan school children to suffer as a result of such bigotry," and added it would organize groups throughout the state to fight aid to nonpublic schools.

Fought Legislation

CAPE last year joined such organizations as the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers and numerous public school associations who fought legislation that would have authorized state grants of up to $150 to parents for each child in nonpublic schools.

The Michigan Association of School Boards hit at religious aspects of the proposal, citing a U. S. Supreme Court ruling against prayer in public schools."

"How can you justify a public school on one side of the street that cannot have prayer and get public money and a parochial school on the other side of the street that can have prayer and still get public money?" asked an organization spokesman.

Forced To Transfer

On the other side of what turned into one of the most hotly contested issues brought before the legislature was the powerful Citizens for Educational Freedom (CEF), made up of some 20,000 families and several religious groups.

Proponents of the bills contended that an increasing number of nonpublic school pupils are forced, either by parents' or schools' financial problems, to transfer to public schools.

They said passage of the nonpublic school aid bill would help cut this number and therefore save money for Michigan taxpayers.

The 333,000 Michigan youngsters enrolled in nonpublic schools saved taxpayers an estimated $205 million during the year, they said.

Federal Timber Policy Change Urged By Brogan

A change in the federal policy on timber management and yields from federal lands is urged by Thomas P. Brogan, executive vice president, Northern Hardwood & Pine Manufacturers Association, Inc., Green Bay.

The NHPMA, an affiliate of National Forest Products Assn., approves the action taken by the NFPA and National Association of Home Builders at a meeting in Houston where they agreed to present this problem to the new Congress and new Secretaries of Agriculture and Interior.

"There is a concern among our lumber manufacturing members in the Lake States over stumpage costs, lumber shortages and increased prices", Brogan commented.

The supply of logs has a direct relationship to lumber prices. The manufacturers are hurt by rising stumpage, which benefits only the seller.

NFPA figures indicate that nationally 65 per cent of the timber inventory is government owned.

In the Lake States, the allowable timber harvests on the Hiawatha, Huron-Manistee, Ottawa, Chippewa, Superior, Chequamegon, and Nicolet National Forests were not fully subscribed to by the forest industry.

U. S. Forest Service figures show that 22.5 milion board feet of sawtimber and 758.5 million cords of pulpwood that were offered for sale were not sold in fiscal 1968, Brogan reports.

"These figures include a large sale offered on the Hiawatha—9.5 milion board feet of sawlogs and 410 million cords of pulpwood. Industry purchased 41 million board feet of sawlogs and 575.5 million cords of pulpwood from the seven Lake States national forests," he said.

"With this trend of rising stumpage cost, shouldn't there be a change in the long standing methods of selling timber from federal land?" Brogan said. "A change could attract buyers and alleviate shortages," he added.

FBI Nets 31 In Draft Scheme

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI has arrested 31 persons —all but one of them residents of the Chicago area—in what it called a "Selective Service scheme which resulted in illegal draft deferments."

The FBI said four other persons are being sought in the case. One of the arrests was in Miami Beach, Fla.

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, said the arrests early today were the result of "an extensive investigation by FBI agents and involved three individuals who were fulltime employes of the Illinois National Guard.

Hoover said the scheme involved phony documents submitted to local draft boards "indicating that various Selective Service registrants were members of the National Guard when in fact they were not such members."

He said "these fictitious documents resulted in the registrants being granted illegal deferments."

Hoover said those arrested today will be brought before a magistrate. Conviction on the charge could result in sentences up to five years in prison or fined $10,000 or both.

Among those arrested were Willus Everett Vivian, about 49, a fulltime employe and captain in the National Guard; Willy Britton Jr., 37, and Ben L. Cleveland, 51, both fulltime employes and sergeants in the Illinois National Guard.

Leonid Brezhnev Is 62 Today

MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev celebrates his 62nd birthday Thursday with all visible evidence indicating his leading position in the Kremlin is stronger than ever.

His jovial, confident mood in public and the implementation of his known views on Soviet policy give no hint that any serious opposition threatens his power.

The energetic general secretary of the Soviet Communist party also shows every sign of retaining the other two members bers of his ruling troika-Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny.

Depite recurrent rumors to the contrary, the occupation of Czechoslovakia has not led to any apparent split among the top leaders.

All three sat on public display for two days last week at the Supreme Soviet - parliament-session, ignoring the speakers and chatting animatedly among thmselves.

Social Security Manager Says Some Must File

Social security beneficiaries drawing retirement or survivors payments whose earnings from employment and self employment during 1968 exceed $1680 will need to file annual reports between Jan. 1 and April 15, according to Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba.

"The only exceptions would be those who were over age 72 every month of 1968 or those who notified us very early in the year that they were working and received no benefit checks at all for 1968," he said.

Persons receiving disability benefits are in a special category and are supposed to report whenever they work, Williams said.

Bishop Reh To Saginaw Diocese

WASHINGTON (AP)— Bishop Francis J. Reh, rector of the North American College in Rome, has been appointed Roman Catholic bishop of Saginaw, Mich., it was announced here today.

Bishop Luigi Raimondi, apostolic delegate to the United States, said Bishop Reh succeeds Bishop Stephen S. Woznicki, who resigned last Oct. 30 and died last Wednesday.

Against Coho In Grand River

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Grand River could become a fisherman's mecca, a group of conservationists claim, if people don't get hooked on the Coho salmon craze.

Richard Schwaiger of Grand Rapids, state president of the Izaac Walton League, says coho can only ruin the Grand River's future as a balanced stream offering fishermen a variety of trout and other game fish.

He suggested the State Department of Conservation's plan for planting Coho next spring should be discouraged. Coho will spend the summers in Lake Michigan and will provide some sport in the Grand Haven area, he said, but the Grand Rapids area will be only a spawning ground and graveyard.

Another Grand Rapids man, Leonard Marszal, said Coho planting in this area would "almost border on pollution."

The Grand Rapids City Commission, after hearing the report, promised to study the suggestions.

Ready To Discuss War Holidays

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government said today it is ready to discuss a "truce arrangement" with North Vietnam for New Year's Day, Jan. 1, and also for Tet, the Vietnamese lunar new year celebration that begins Feb. 17.

President Nguyen Van Thieu already has announced a 24-hour cease-fire for Christmas, beginning at 6 p.m. Dec. 24th.

"It is still too early to make any decision concerning a possible standdown in military operations for New Year's Day and Tet," a foreign ministry communique said.

"In case Hanoi wishes to seek a truce arrangement for New Year's Day and Tet, the government of the Republic of Vietnam will be ready to discuss the matter with the representatives of North Vietnam."

Quiz Cavanagh On Taxi Service

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's City Council decided Tuesday to ask Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh for advice on how to improve taxicab service in the city.

The Council was unable to agree on what should be done until all eight members approved a suggestion to seek the mayor's help in the matter.

Most councilmen seemed to think that more night service and more cabs in all Negro areas of the city are needed. But council president Ed Carey said, "I haven't had one single, solitary call from a citizen asking for more cab service."

Detroit now has one cab for every 1,267 residents to rank seventh among the nation's 10 largest cities in cabs available in proportion to the population.
